

PORTUGAL

COVID-19 – Where to be tested?

Please find below a list of some places where you can be tested in Mainland Portugal and Autonomous Regions of Azores and Madeira. This is just a small selection and many of the laboratories have facilities in many different places.

An antigen test costs between 20-30€ and a RT-PCR test between 60-100€

AIRPORTS

In the public areas of Lisbon, Faro, Oporto and Madeira airports there are Synlab laboratories that allow RT-PCR and antigen testing.

Since some countries require the presentation of (rapid) antigen testing before flight, test areas at airports give priority to passengers travelling to the Netherlands, Germany and Luxembourg.

You can perform tests at the following locations:

Lisbon Airport:

Public Area: Synlab Laboratory (next to CTT) - from 6:00 am - 10:00 pm

Public Area: P1 car park – from 7:00 am to 6:00 pm (for KLM flights departing at 5:00am, the area will open at 1:00 am)

For transferring passengers: Gate 24 - from 8:00 am to 11:00 am (only for passengers on connection)

Faro Airport:

Public Area: next to airline counters in the check-in área

Porto Airport:

Public Area: Level 3, near the check-in área

Madeira Airport:

Public Area: Level 1, next to ANA information desk

The need to present an RT-PCR test for COVID-19 and/or antigen (rapid) test with a negative result depends on the destination, so you should check official websites for further information, such as ANAC or IATA Travel Centre, or with the airline, travel agency and/or official entities. You can find here the list of laboratories recommended by the Portugal's Directorate-General of Health (DGS).
